Namthip, already famous for her Friday Thai take away food, is embarking on a brand-new adventure . . .

THE ALL NEW Y GWYDYR

BAR – RESTAURANT – CAFE – BED & BREAKFAST

Dolwyddelan residents, Namthip and Urien are undertaking a complete refit, restyle and refurbish, inside and out of Y Gwydyr, in the centre of our village.

Don't worry, Namthip's Friday Thai food specialities will still available every Friday to eat in or take away.

Along with giving the village a much-needed café location, for meeting informally during the day over coffee and cake. There will also be bar foods, as well as a seated restaurant, all serving home cooked food, locally sourced where possible.

This will also be an important destination for tourists passing through the Lledr valley, who at present have nowhere in between Betws-y-Coed and Ffestiniog to get an indoor sit-down bite to eat during the day.

Whilst the kitchens undergo a complete refit, the four bed and breakfast rooms upstairs are being totally refurbished to a crisp and elegant country style. This will be a comfy all in one destination, where we can confidently recommend our family and friends stay whilst visiting the area.

An inviting beer garden is also being created, giving somewhere to enjoy your food and drink in the Welsh summer sun (there will also be umbrellas.)
